Assistant chief executive - asset management, Incommunities

Angela Perry is the newly appointed assistant chief executive (asset management) at Incommunities Housing Group. She is responsible for the delivery of repairs, maintenance and estate services, the Capital improvements programme and the development of 1200 new homes. Incommunities owns and manages approximately 22,500 homes across Bradford district and other parts of West and South Yorkshire.

Angela joined the Bradford-based housing group at an exciting time as it prepares to deliver its strategic plan for growth over the next ten years and progresses its multi-million pound new homes programme. With extensive housing experience, she has worked in the sector for over 25 years and at an executive level for 10 years, she started her housing career in 1990 with Manchester and District Housing Association (now part of Your Housing Group) in an administrative position. Since then she has carried out a variety of roles and responsibilities across the Cheshire, Merseyside, Greater Manchester and now the Yorkshire region.

Some of her most notable achievements include the delivery of a £105m investment programme in Warrington as part of the formation of Golden Gates Housing Trust following stock transfer, the transformation and modernisation of a poorly performing Direct Labour Organisation and her innovative approach to tenant involvement and engagement.

She is passionate about housing, and in particular improving homes and neighbourhoods that will make a real difference to people's lives and neighbourhoods. She also has a keen interest in new technologies and developing digital services to provide modern systems and services.

When she isn't working Angela enjoys spending time with her husband and two children, reading, listening to music and walking her dog in the Cheshire countryside.
